3. [] - GLC) Returned to Jack Ticer, Senate Armed Services Committee staff, the transcript of [] before the Committee on 21 May 1973. I told Ticer to pass this on to Jim Woolsey, General Counsel of the Committee, with Jack Maury's message that we saw no reason to delete any of that testimony for security reasons but emphasized that the testimony should also be cleared with NSA. Ticer mentioned he thought the particular interest in this testimony stemmed from [] desire to review the transcript himself.

5. [] - GLC) Howard Osborn, Director of Security, called to say that Deputy Secretary of State Kenneth Rush and Marvin Gentile were seeing Senators Russell Long and Wallace Bennett this afternoon regarding the polygraph examination which was given to [] Gentile and Osborn have agreed that if they are pressed regarding the polygraph they will indicate that it was conducted by an Agency operator on an Agency machine, both of which were on loan to the Department. (According to Osborn this fact has already been made public.) I agreed with Osborn that Rush and Gentile had no other choice.

7. [] - GLC) I happened to see Cecil Presson, Senate Internal Security Subcommittee staff, on the Hill and I mentioned the difficulties we were having in getting our copies of the [] testimony. Later in the day, Presson called to say GPO had called them today on this matter because as it develops GPO sent our copies to the Subcommittee along with the Subcommittee's distribution. Arrangements were made for GPO to pick up our copies and deliver them to us tomorrow.
